ANY ROOM FOR TAX CUTS?

ANY ROOM FOR TAX CUTS?
A finance Department statement for six months ending September 30—first half of the fiscal year-above revenue up by $10,30,000 over those of avarago. Expenditures, including $100,000,000 for the Canada Council, were higher by $14,500,000, hence a half-year surplus of $231,500,000, compared with $232.500,000 in 1956.

The substantial revenue gain was provided almost entirely by personal and corporation income taxes. These dropped sharply in August and September, however, as they did last year. What they do from here in will affect the whole picture.

The Government saved about $10,000,000 on defense, but there were increases in cost of family al-lowances, and in the Departments of Veterans' Af-fairs, Post Office, Transport (mostly air services) and Public Works (chiefly Trans-Canada Highway).

Public Works (chiefly Trans-Canada Highway).

Hon, Walter fairs budgeded last March for a surplus of $15.000,000 in the current facal year, after plus of $15.000,000 in the current facal year, after usual season-of payments. Mr. Plemagn might hold on to $10.000,000. Pleuring out what he could do by way of tax reduction offers a pleasing severies. The Prims Minister promised reduction or removal of the care section. The most widely beneficial refield would be a rectain. The most widely beneficial refield would be in the personal income tax field, either through lower rates or higher exemptions. No harm to speculate; the Government is pledged to do something by way of tax POOR TO STATISTICS

Statisticans contend that the current wave of 'flu whether it is described as "Asian" or considered to be the "ordinary" variety, is causing fewer fatalities, and even less havoc than have been caused by other waves of the same (or similar aliments in recent keeping their pencils sharp, but The Trentonian says. Pooh to statistics.

Pooh to statistics.

The members of this papers staff now laid low by 'flu seem unimpressed even by the evidence that fattatilities are being held to a minimum. As they are the thing that can there is no statistics are being held to a minimum. As they are that there is the thing that distresses them most is moving so close to the brink of death without quite achieving fi.

Of course, as agony 'soccles, they tend to modify that view, but most 'flu victims pass through a stage of feeling that is.

in their power to prevent a vote of the ratepayers out.

This could not help but be apparent to all but the most insttentive of observers at meetings of Lindsay's Council when the matter has come up. Now, note that we centive of observers at meetings of Lundas's County when the matter has come up. Now, note that we have emphasized the word ratepayers because that segment of the population is given exclusive right, under municipal law, to vote on money bylaws, telligibly or wrongly (there are many who feel it is wrong for reasons we'll consider later on) this legisla-It is the unwillingness to be willing to allow established democratic procedure to function which is proving most aggravating, and is apt to do the cause great ratepayers on the proposed grant to the Ross Memorial Hospital contend that such a vote is unfair because it only gives the landowner a say in such vital services as hospitals. This section of the town's population would like to see a plebiscite on the proposed hospital debenture bylaw. They contend that they should be entitled to a say in this matter because if taxes go up heir rents will be similarly affected. Unfortunately there is nothing in the law which provides for such an arrangments and money bylaws are to be submitted to avers only. But what is even more unfortunathe absolutely tactless way in which the situation been (and is being) handled. The forces which ose a vote of the ratepayers haven't had the good grips with the situation and, by a series natter of plain fact, it would appear that me ttention is being given to avoiding a vote than to the ery real and pressing needs of the hospital.

HARD TO FIND...

Fire you ever had people stop you and tell you how difficult it is to locate streets and house numbers in Linday after neight. Well, if you are in any branch of public service you probably will hear the complaint at some time another! you haven't already done so, And, speaking from experience, we are in agreements streets and house numbers are hard to locate here as computed with some centres. We have been

THE CHANGING HOSPITAL SCENE

The awaited hospitalization plan for Ontario waiten is now expected to go into effect in January 1858, is going to have a bearing on the future hospital requirements of the province. This was the tenor of popular speculation since the hospital plan was first introduced

Dr. Agnew addressed the Ontario Hospital Asso-ciation this week and here are some of the things he envisaged in connection with hospital developments:

Establishment of entire units designed solely for diagnostic purposes, heavily staffed by techni-cal personnel but without intensive nursing care Cal personnel but without intensive during care.

Heavier demands for four-bed and single rooms and less for home care of convalescent or sub-acutely III patients, involving nurse and new administrative facilities.

Accommodation of long-stay patients in a separate wing or building specially designed with recreational facilities.

Increased numbers of private office accommodation for doctors in hospitals.

Increased emergency work caused by increased industrialization and a population which has forsaken human legs for balloon tires.

More urology among men, brought on by increased longevity. Increased cancer treatment.

Alterations in outpatient departments caused by reduced demand for their services as hospital ere. Shifting emphasis in medical training to outdoor clinics and televising of surgical techniques.

Dr. Agnew said the biggest problem in hospital planning is not merely to be up to date, but to insure what is built now will be functionable for 60 hospitalization will affect present plans for expanding the Ross Memorial Hospital . . . Will they call for an alteration of present expansion proposals or are we on the right track after all? This is something which should be determined before all else, is it not?

A man who devotes a number of years to public service gets to know quite a lot about people and there are few places where he may get a better knowledge of community affairs. During those years he does things which both win him acclaim and criticism and he learns quickly that it is almost impossible to please all of the people all of the time.

A WINTER ELECTION MIGHT BE WHAT IS NEEDED

The Liberals have advanced the date of the part, vention by eight days-from January 22nd to Jan

This would suggest that the official Opposition is the suggest of the control of the winter elections in the past.

The debate on the Speech from the Throne demonstrates that the Liberals are not prepared to provide the government with an excuse for an early vote. After the debacle of last June it is natural that the party will want some little time to reorganize, even after a new leader has been elected; and the surest way the official Opposition knows for obtaining the necessary breathing space is to refrain from giving the government an excuse for dissolution in an adverse vote.

However, an adverse vote is not a requisite for dis-However, an adverse vote is not a requisite for dis-solution in a situation where the government is work-ing on a minority representation in the House. The Prime Minister, on the theory of striking while the iron is hot and while the Liberals still are more or less at sixes and sevens might decide that an election prior to sixes and sevens might decide that an electron prior to the heretofore expected May date would be desirable from the point of view of the party fortunes. Bad weather, after all, cuts both ways in an election. The question is whether the Liberais can, for very

A winter vote probably would be the best for all concerned. It is pretty well conceded, even by the more rabid Liberal supporters, that the chances of the government obtaining an over-all majority in an early election are bright in the extreme. The June vote demonstrated, of course, that election forecasting is a precarious business but two miracles within the space of a year is too much for the Liberals to hope for. It is not the healthiest situation imaginable for the government to be dependent upon any opposition element for its continued existance. Hence, the sooner -The Financial Ti

MERCHANTS OF FEAR

There has always been a measure of unemployment in Canada during the winter months; and the coming winter will be no exception. But a considerable number of Canadians—including some, we regret to number of Canadians—including some, we regret to say, In important positions—seem determined that there should be more than a measure of unemployment this winter. They are saying that there will be half amillion jobless—possibly more—and, of course, that is the best way to make sure that there really are half a million jobless. Let people fear mass unemployment, and and mass unemployment will almost certainly result.

and mass unemployment will almost certainly result. It is a matter of confidence. When people are frightened, they stop spending; when business is rigitated, it stops expanding; when possessors of capital, small or large, are frightened, they stop lavesting. And thus, the very thing they were frightened of, comes about. That is why President Ronewett told the American people in his first inungural address, at the pit of the prewar depression, "The only thing we have to fear itself".

have to fear is fear itself.

What, exactly, is the reason for all of this unemployment talk—indeed, this depression talk—one hears in Canada today? The long stock market decline that caused the gloom. The stock market simply reflects what people are feeling—even, or especially, if those feelings are absurd.

Perhaps a partial answer is to be found in the ex-

Certainly another partial explanation of the gloom may be found in the wage-price inflation that has been going on since the end of the war. Having done little or nothing to stop this inflation, having all too often or nothing to stop this initiation, having all too often condined or even encouraged it, politicians and busin-essmen now fear it is unstoppable, and can only end by running its headlong course into the ground.

This newspaper emphatically disagrees. Had politicians and businessmen spoken frankly and cated courageously, inflation would have been checked long since. ageously, inflation would have been checked long nince. Prank words and courageous actions could check it even new. How striking is was that immediately after speak up, against the harm being done to Canada by our premium dollar, the premium started to shrink. There was something more than a coincidence here. Among andquarde features of the Hilder, era is racial supremacy. It is not only German supremacy that is discredied; but, with Egyptians pibring ships reasonably well along the Suer Claus and with Althea Gloson, from the shums of Harbur, incloking them back Gibson, from the slums of Hariem, knocking them back at Forest Hills and geneted Wimbelon, white supremacy is not what it used to be. Savants now asy that there is no important difference between negro and white, especially after a holiday on the beach. Canadians, as the heirs of Europe, may feel dis-mayed that others than British, Fruch and Northern good qualifies. However, there are advantage that Canada could gain from the new ideas. For one thing, it would seen about time to quit the bickering between English and French in this country, when both kinds of people are having so much competition from nonwere originally. Maybe they become Canadians. It is a cheering fact that nobody has been able to prove, so far, that Canadians are inferior, even though they may not be better than everybody edse.

The Other Side Of The Coin

Lindsay, Nov. 11, 1957.

The Editor, Lindsay Daily Post, Lindsay,

I do agree with your editorial of November 8th, 1957, with the heading "An end to night meetings of the Council".

I am sure, there are no tenable objections to giving morning council meetings a trial. However, this is only one side of the coin.

only one fide of the coin.

The other side is to elect the best men and women for council. This is our, the voters', business.

It must be undertaken, as soon as the candidates for the new municipal election are known. To ask the candidates where they stand in any matter, you as a voter may be interested in. You have the right to do

Sir:

So there is still no vote for the ratepayers on the Hospital bylaw! Why? Because that Pressure Group, which has been using pressure on its Council. to force Mr. ratepayers to put up the money without their constant—sologed in the Group of the Republic Board, in reply to a question, answered: "I thought that if the Council ordered the Hospital bylaw, that no other consent was needed." Does he speak for the whole Board without heir consent? If not that appears to be the policy being followed. That was no doubt the reason that a signature of the policy being followed. That was no doubt the reason that a signature of the policy being followed. siy motion was introduced by tour supporters in Council to cell—to get the Council to "motorse" the Hospital en-largement plan. One can never from what a cross-sord person appears to be looking at —where they will hit. If that motion had passed, it meant according to them (but not clearly stated) that the Council would then proceed to hand out the ratepayers' money without their consent:

When the Comminity Chest Campaign, it was not expected to hand out the ratepayers' money—they did that for themselves voluntarily! Why the difference? The question for ratepayers to solve now, at the max election of council is this "WHO IS TO CONTROL THE COUNCIL—THE ATTERVARIES OF THE PRESUME GROUPS!

No doubt the Hospital Board will also use pressure all kinds of Pressure Groups that were non-paying under their own management, could get help from a Dicutiovship Council, that would order ratespayers provided their property for insulting to a set their property for insulting to a set the single provided that a "vote" for the Hospital enlargement plan, since widently includes the vote for a "Council" that endorses their plan instead of the "Ratespayers" is and control these Pressure Groups and Councils showing the set of the Ratespayers to get out the story of the Ratespayers of the set of the Ratespayers of get out on the Hospital bylaw.

sooner or later, it may be declared to us, what it really is—an attempt to undetermine Democracy, that puts the People off the throne and replaces them with Pressure Groups, that in reality rule the people who supply the finances for what they endorse at the present time.

A STRANGER IN OUR MIDST...
When you live in one place for a long time you tend to take certain things for granted...you assume that everything is in good hands and going along on Lina verything is in good dathus and going should on an even keel ... in fact you sometimes lapse into a state of acceptance which borders on complacency and often become unobservant to a greater or lesser degree. But let a stranger come into your midst and he is apt to make some observations which start you

Just this week we had a visitor in the office from Just this week we had a visitor in the office from Whithy and he happened to arrive in lown about the same time that one of Lindsay's fire trucks was re-sponding to a cill. As he watched her fire runck make fix may down kent St., he was surprised to note hat it was experiencing unwonted delays at illustractions where traffic signals were functioning. When he came into the editional office of this everypaper he cumrated on the situation and observed that many centres have their traffic signals so controlled that when there is a fire call or other emergency, they flash red in all direct ions, thus halting the normal flow of traffic. This mad-passage of the fire truck through the signals unimpeded (or nearly so), saving it time on its mission. He wo dered why Lindsay didn't have an arrangement of this

We didn't have the answer so we ask the question

ALL IS NOT LOST AFTER ALL!

Well, the "worst" has happened and it doesn't appear to be so bed after all. A few days ago we heard of some laments being voiced concerning the removal of a strip of concrete from the sidewalk along both older of progressive the sidewalk along both older older of progressive the sidewalk along both older ol of a strp of concrete from the sucewark along bout sides of Downtown Kent Street. There was apparently a pessimistic feeling among the authors of these la-ments that all was going to be lost . . . that all the good which had been done was to be undone, and all for the sake of allowing natural gas services to be in-

Wednesday morning we took a look at the down town Kent St. work which was by then in progress. It really didn't look nearly so depressing as the reports we had heard would have led us to believe. As a matter of fact when we saw how the situation was being band led we were inclined to search out the contractor and compliment him. The strip of concrete which is being taken up is first cleanly cut through on both sides with ete saw and then removed in such a manne that there are no jagged edges. After this, the neces-sary excavation is made, the transmission line laid, fill restored and topped with sand which is packed in the cut to a height which allows room for a temporary as-phalt fill. When this is tampered into ulace and any rephalt fill. When this is tampered futo ulace and any re-maining debris cleaned up, the sidewalk is considered restored as much as possible until spring. By this time it is expected that the necessary "sectling" will have taken place and town officials report the gas company has given assurances that it will remove the temporary fill and replace it with a permanent concrete mix which will at itseat restore the sigle-walk to its original con-

Progress is painful and often disrupting. It dis-turbs the even tenor of things and as long as we are to progress, we must accept the fast that nothing can be considered permanent, inalterable or immune from being conditioned to the need of the moment. When we do that we endorse progress and contribute to it, and conversely when we hold that change will bring certain disaster, we may someday stand in the way of developments which would have ultimately benefitted of the fact that the major disruption to the north side of the sidewalk was timed to coincide as fully as pos-sible with the Wednesday half holiday.

IT WILL BE HARD TO CONVINCE

IT WILL BE HARD TO CONVINCE

It will be hard to convince a lot of people in Linday kept fully-informed on what is taking place in the Usually, when a strange object is seen in the sky it is declared to be a weather balloon and that ends it Sometimes the explanation is plausible enough and most people have come to recognize a weather balloon in flight now so that they really do not need to be told it is one. However, there are other times when myste-It is one. However, (zere are other times when myster-rious flying objects cannot be so easily explained away. Sunday's phenomenon was one of those that couldn't, be mistaken for a weather balloon. A level-headed Lindsay resident was attracted by a bright object in the morthern sky just about the time the sun was setting Watching it, the observer declared that it appeared to have an arc of less brilliant light below it. According to this witness, the object hovered for a minute or two in the sky, then appeared to take on the shape of a in the sky, then appeared to take on the shape of a rocket, began to emit puffs of sumke and disappeared in a northerly direction at a terrific speed. By the time our attention had been called to the mysterious object the only evidence that it had existed was sixable patch of smoke in the sky. And it did appear more like smoke high up in the heavens. . . It had no resumble high up in the heavens. . . It had no resumble high up to the same and the smoke high up in the heavens. . . NEWSPAPERS AHEAD IN POLL

NEWSPAPERS AHEAD IN POLL In spite of the progress which has been made by radio and television in the field of news coverage, the great majority of people sill depend on their daily newspapers as the chief source of news. This was conclusively proven in a careful and exhaustive survey made by the Kingston Whig-Standard in the city of

The result of the survey, indeed, was very much

Of the men who answered, 74% said news

Of the men who answered, 74% said newspapers were their main source of news; radio came next with 16% and television trailed with 10%.

Perhaps because women spend more time in the home and have more ready access to radio and televisions. vision, there was some variation in their answers. For 66% chose newspapers as their chief source, 26% voted for radio and 8% for television.

for radio and 8% for television.

Another interesting bit of information secured was that 25% of the readers spent one hour at their newpapers, while 45% spent half an hour. The others were either below or above that spread in time.

The position of the newpaper was further emphasized when those queried were asked whether, when they beard an interesting news form or radio or or radio or television, they made a special point of turning to their newspaper for confirmation of further details. Ap-proximately 90% answered that they did.

This survey points clearly to the fact that people who wish to be well informed on events taking place in their community, their country and the world turn almost automatically to their newspaper as a source

MUNICIPAL ROAD NEEDS UNDER STUDY

MUNICIPAL ROAD NEEDS UNDER STUDY, SURVEY EXPECTED TO TAKE TWO YEARS The ink was hardly dry on the massive report "A Plan For Ontario Highways", the title under which the findings of the Highway Needs Study were públished recently, when the Department of Highways began a similar type of study of the engineering requirements of the streets and roads in the cities, towns, villages, counties and townships of Ontario.

The study may take up to two years to complete and will cover an examination of the present needs in such areas—as well as projecting these needs ahead

IMAGINATION IN THE CLASSROOM

G. M. Neffeld, principal of Hugh John Macdonald School in Winnipeg, faced with potential drop-outs in grades eight and nine and perturbed at the general slop-piness of the teen-agers in this group faced his pro-blems squarely and came up with an imaginative solu-tion that worked.

He decided to abandon the formal class-room and to provide for this group of sloppy Joes and potential quitters a more business-like environment. He dispensed with formal examinations — they didn't keep pupils in school nor did they contribute to good man-ners and proper deportment in dress and behaviour. Assignment sessions were drawn up and pupils were allowed to progress at their own natural rate. This was supplemented with what amounted to individual

He claims that the job atmosphere soon had the students wearing shirts, ties and business clothes. Good manners and grooming were stressed; students had to come to school dressed and groomed as though they were going to work in some office. Hair had to be combed, shoes had to be shined, shirts and collars and fies worn by the boys. They began to take some pride in their appearance an to act in a more mature way. Mr. Newfield observed that "perhaps, the fact that they looked good from the outside made the feel good on the inside".

The typical school slouch disappeared and so too the slacks, jeans and sweaters. With these went the rough and tumble habits which tended to make so much of their school work meaningless.

RAILWAY WAGE DEMANDS AND FREIGHT RATES The non-operating employees of Canadian rail-roads want an hourly wage increase of 35 cents which, amounts to an additional $100,000,000 in wage costs. The appouncement of the unions' demands are still round of wage increases.

Under the present methods of establishing freight Under the present methods of establishing freight rates, the Board of Transport Commissioners conaders only present and known factors, including present and known wage costs, in permitting or rejecting the ap-plications by railroads for freight increases. The result has been that new freight rates are outdated, in terms of costs, even before they are passed by the board.

This is one of the most pressing reasons behind the argument of the CPR that a re-assessment of the manner in which freight rates are established has become necessary. Freight rate adjustments, the CPR argues, should take into account the constantly re-curring increases in wages and material costs—in-creases which can be forecold with reasonably certainty.

Failure to do this has put the railways consistently behind the financial "eight-ball". They are, in effect, obliged to a form of deficit financing in the sense that any improvement in their charges must always be sub-sequent to increases in their costs, rather than in anticipation of cost increases.

The result has been that the railways have been obliged to serve notice of new freight rate increases while 'still arguing for those sought months earlier. This situation borders on the ridiculous

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED

This morning the mail brought us a copy of an editorial that appeared in a Toronto Daily, December 8th, 1908. It announced something new on the Canadian scene—a sale of special stamps, profits from which would go to the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives.

It would be an interesting article at any time, we think, but it is especially arresting now, as Canadians are asked for the fiftieth time to buy Christmas Seals are assec for the Hitten time to by Christmas beam to fight tubercluoise. At that time tubercluoise out-ranked every other cause of death. From a thousand miles ceat and wost—from St. John, New Punswick, from the newly started Regina Leader and from a hand-ful of bank clerks at Kamsack, Sask, came an answer to that editor's plea to his readers, to enroll themselves in the army of noblemen and women who were fighting the white plague.

A million stamps were printed. Incidentally th are now collector's items. How the movement has grown can be judged from the fact that last year Canadians bought more than two and a quarter million dollars worth—still at the old price of a cent each.

Since the public began taking part in the fight against TB through the Christmas Seal Sale, more progress has been made than in all the centuries before.
The changes are one of the wonders of our time—but there is still something for us to do. There are still more than a thousand deaths yearly from TB, and more than nine thousand new cases. Consequently, the closing words of that editorial still apply and we repeat

TO THE U.A.

AND NOW . . . AN AMBASSADOR

Victoria County has produced many men who have gone out in the world to make a name for themselves in high offices. Among those who have brought special honour to the community, is Canada's permanent re-presentative to the United Nations, R.E. MacKay, presentative to the United Nations, N. S. MARCHAY, formerly of Woodville.

Dr. MacKay's achievements have received somewhat more attention than many of those numerous other people from the county who have gained prominence in business and world affairs and this may be attributed in some degree to his continuing interest in the area. Many students from the district have been number of high school pupils to visit the United Nations each year.

But nothing is permanent in this world not even the appointment of a "permanent" representative to the United Nations and so it bappens that Mr. MacKay has been named Canada's Ambassador to Norway and Minister to Iceland. With this development he becomes, we believe the first person from Victoria County to be named, a Canadian Ambassador. No doubt his many friends in the county will wish to join us in congratulating this prominent native son

THIS IS A FINE STATE OF AFFAIRS

It is pretty apparent that the public is now com-pletely confused concerning the industrial developmen site in Lindsay's east ward. It also seems pretty evident that there are also a lot of councillors who do not know exactly what is taking place in connection with this project A fine state of affairs, especially when we are supposed to be making a determined effort to bring industry to Lindsay!

The trouble with the industrial development p

The trobuse with the industrial development pro-ject is that there are too many "fingers in the pie", each finger looking for a plum instead of helping to prepare a tasty dish to set before the taxpayers. The result: a hodge-podge of half and misinformation.

But this is not surprising ... it has been developing for sometime and is the net result of divided authority ... "a house divided within itself". It is time that an accounting of this project was made to the public and presented in a clear-cut manner which would leave no doubt in the minds of the taxpayers as to what is going on. There is no need to "guild the lily" because at this stage the poor thing is drooping so badly that an extra coat of paint would flatten it completely. About the only thing that will save this wilting plant now is a good dose of "the sunlight of facts

THE HOSPITAL AND ITS NEEDS

Indigent patients, and they are equally as deserving of care as the richest people among us, have been an economic burden on hospitals over the years. It has always been difficult for hospitals and civic authorities to work out a satisfactory basis of payment for their care and the result has frequently been a hospital de ficit because the amount paid for indigent care didn't meet expenses. The new Ontario Hospital plan is, Premier Frost informs us, going to eliminate the need for hospitals caring for indigent patients at a lot they will be fully compensated. The hospital plan also provides for a greater number of people to take advantage of hospital facilities. For a moderate monthly sum all members of a family may become eligible for hospital care when needed.

It is readily apparent that the two factors men-tioned above will increase demands for hospital service. The hospitals will be more anxious to admit people The hospitals will be more anxious to samit people who would otherwise be a liability to them . . . in fact it will be next to impossible for them to refuse and there will be criticism if adequate accomodation is not

These circumstances indicate a drastic change in hospital requirements since Lindsay first started con-sidering the proposed expansion to the Ross Memorial Hospital. We are now confronted with the need for re-examining any proposed expansion in the light of the latest developments. We must determine whether or not the planned enlargement of the hospital is in keeping with needs

Before any further action is taken the Board of Governors should satisfy the people of the area being served that the expansion proposals are adequate and in line with the new developments. This done, they should request that the ratepayers of Lindsay be granied the privilege of voting on any money by-law to help necessary expansion

If these two things are done, the Board of Governors will have gone a long way toward winning the con fidence of the public, at the same time aligning them selves with the forces of democracy as opposed to dictatorship and pressure groups.

We strongly urge that a completely new approach be taken to the hospital needs of the town and district, having in mind recent developments and with a view to eliciting full public support in this vital community

We stand firmly opposed to any maneuver which fails to take the public into full confidence of this institution's needs and contributes in any way to sahotaging the hospital because that is what private mani-pulation could result in.

It is now up to the Board of Governors to clarify its position with the public in regard to the relationship between proposals and present anticipated require-ments before proceeding with discussions concerning grants, debentures issues, etc. This done a vote would quickly determine public support or otherwise

PROBING FARM PRICE SPREADS of Prime Minister The Conservative government of Prime Minister Diefenbaker is undertaking a task of tremendous scope if it carries out its expressed intention of appointing a royal commission to investigate price spread on farm products between the producer and the consumer. This has been tried before, but we have never noticed hat there has been any preceptible change because of that the previous investigations.

A case in point is that of the Steveńs Commission of 1954, which conducted an inquiry into price spreads, not only in farm products, but on a much broader That commission produced plenty of interesting scale. That commission produces party of interesting evidence, and some pointed recommendations, but nothing in the way of action resulted. Indeed, the failure of the government of that time to act on Mr. Eallire of the government of that time to act on Mr. Stevens' recommendations resulted in his resignation from the cabinet and his formation of what was known as the Reconstruction Party. Many will recall how that party contested the 1935 general election, but its only candidate electernment in Ontario in 1943 also con ducted an inquiry into price spreads as part of its gen and investmentions into agriculture.

The Agricultural Commission of Inquiry which was appointed by the Drew Government suffered an even worse tate than the Stevens Commission. After presenting an interim report, which did not include its findings on marketing and price spreads, it was quietly advised by the government to fold up. It never met

We hope that a better fate will lie in store for whatever body is set up by the federal government to wanaseer body is set up by the federal government to conduct this investigation. The actual figures of price spreads on farm products between what the producer receives and the consumer pays will be staggering. What the commission will have to determine is what, if the commission will have be commission will have been about it.

AN INSPIRING EVENT

Twenty years ago Sir Winston Churchill wrote:
"At the heart of the British Empire there is one institution, among the most recent and venerable, which, the torrent of events, and even derived new vigour from the stresses. Unshaken by the earthquakes, unweakened by the dissolvent tides though all he drifting the I monarchy of Britain stands firm."

The historic visit to Cauada last month of Queen

Elizabeth demonstrated beyond a shadow of doubt that Sir Winston's assessment of the Crown twenty year ago is wholeheartedly concurred in by Canadians today That gracious "gleaming figure", as Churchill called the Queen at the time of her Coronation, again reveal-ed herself to her Canadian people as the embodiment of all they hold dear-loyalry to duty selflessness dignity, humility, love of family.

The royal visit was a truly inspiring event. showed clearly that the monarchy stands as firm in Canada as it does in Britain; that Elizabeth II does in-deed — using, as she did, the words of her predecessor, Elizabeth I — "reign in the love of her people."

EYE ON THE SKY

It is remarkable how many strange objects have been found to be flying through the heavens since the discovery that the space age is almost upon us. Red balls, egg-shaped objects, white lights and shimmering masses are all whirring and diving up there, if only one bas eyes to see them. And they came into shortly after Sputnik began to beep.

Astronomers and other experts whose province such phenomena belong to, may be at a loss either to explain or to ess them. The objects, variously and vaguely described, may not fit into any of the categories known to science. This, however, signifies nothing. That the objects are there is obvious hasn't their presence been attented to be police officers, sherifics, engineers, and even the U.S. Air Force, as well as plain citizens? The fact that the most impressive story in the new myster besterned to the one about the transparent car-stopping ma-sing containing masses of instruments and people les—the one about the transparent car-scopping ma-chine containing masses of instruments and people speaking German—has since been discounted because of its unreliable source (an ex-convict), really should not undermine our credulity.

as the newspapers are saturated with satellites.

IMMAGINATION IN THE CLASSROOM

G. M. Nefield, principal of Hugh John Macdonald School in Winnipes, faced with potential drop-outs in grades eight and nine and perturbed at the general sloppiness of the teen-agers in this group faced his problems squarely and came up with an imaginative solution that worked.

SHODDY GOODS

The charge that Canadian made consumer good The charge that Chandian made consumer goods are 'gery-buil, junk', by the member for Dauphin, Mr. F. S. Zaplitzy, w'ill give rise to anguished protest from canadian manufacturers that Mr. Zaplitzy is doing his Country down. If the charge is taken to be against all consumer goods made in Canadia he is doing so, but against some section of the consumer goods industry the charge is all too well-tounded. Mr. Zaplitzy, who claims there has been a steady deterioration in Cana dian goods since the end of World War II, is too genera however to be taken seriously.

He talks of the superior quality of British goods more of which in Canada, he says will perk up Canadian manufacturers) but forgets that British exports have been at the expense of the British. Not one who has lived in British since World War II can have escaped the disappointment of seeing good marked For Export the disappointment of seeing good marked To Export.
Only, or having to put up with second best and 'export repects'. The fact is that no country is going to export poor quality merchandise to a rich country. What kind of quality the British have to contend with has not been considered, perhaps, by Mr. Zaplitny.

we would like to see Mr. Zaguitty do his country a service by being more explicit about what he considers to be shoddy, for there is indeed shoddiness to be ex-posed. But, again, we must remember that people get largely what they pay for. If Cauadians are prepared to pay fair prices they can obtain quality goods; if they to pay fair processors and continuous the buy with the idea of getting something for nothing, they will certainly get less than what they expect. The sure way to force shoddy goods off the market is not to buy them.

—Peterborough Examiner.

WHAT'S A BILLION?

There was a time, not long ago, when the infre-ntly used term, a billion, had a meaning for-all of But in some strange fashion familiarity has bred something akin to contempt. As the phase has come into more common use, an understanding of its true meaning has diminished. Whereas a million still represents a lot of anything, be it people, dollars, years of bushels, the conception that a billion represents a thou-sand million falls to register.

This odd fact has not escaped notice. In recent weeks several journals have attempted to give relative meaning to the term. The Toronto Globe and Mail published the comment that the figure 1,000,000,00 is only slightly less that the number of minutes that have passed since the birth of Christ.

passed since the birth of Christ.

The Pinancial Post took a more material view in noting that "if you had a billion dollars and set out to make a since the property of the p of a 30-storey skyscraper,

Perhaps more than any other factor it has been the very rapid rise in state spending, and taxing, that has made the term meaningless. In 1939 the federal government of Canada spent $553 million. By 1 comparative total had jumped to $2.1 billion. current year it will be about $5.5 billion.

As long as the total was in millions, even hun-is of millions, it had an understandable dimension, t that it is up in millions, even hundreds of millions, it had an understandable dimension. Now that it is up in the billions it has slipped into the realm of the in-comprehensible, and made the term, one billion, almost meaningless in whatever connection it is applied.

READING REPORTERS

Many years ago someone described the daily news-paper as "the rich man's guide and the poor man's university". There are neither so many rich men nor so many poor men as there used to be, but we like to feel that the description is still apt. We are encounthis by the statement of U.S. Senator Richard berger that the main source to which he and his colleagues go for information is the newspapers. Unfortunately he couples with this a complaint that, be cause of a vast amount of newspaper reading, the Sena tors can spare little additional time for reading worth-while magazines and books.

Since, tomorrow, members of the intermediate and secondary school libarians' section of the Out-aris Library Association will be welcoming visitors in Brantford, this is a good time to write something about what newspaper men and women read

As a result of Senator Neuhergo's remark, a dozen or .so -Wsahington, correspondents were interviewed. The "survey" shows that the reporters read more newspapers than do the Senators' but still flind time to devote many hours weekly to a wide variety of of serious periodicals and books.

"Good correspondents", writes Ronald W. May in Editor and Publisher, New York, "seems to be insatiable readers." Don't they have to be if they want to remain and control of the commitment of t to remain good correspondents, or, to remain good correspondents, or, for that matter ordinary reporters, deak men or editors? Anyway, apart from the pile of newspapers, mag-xines, pamphiets and other literature the correspon-dents tackle as a matter of course, they read, on the average, about its books a month, these ranging from the collected papers on Thaddeus Stevens through Shakespare and Thomas Wolfe to Sir H. Rider Hasgard. Most of the newsmen interviewed had personal libaries running to about 500 "permanent" books.

Almost without exception the newsmen com Almost without exception the newsman com-plained about not having enough time to read—but they explained that they somehow made the time! The reading of serious literature on a great many subjects is essential in, their business. Reading of some blood-and-thunders, and whodunits, most of them agree, is helpful to needed relaxation.

The librarians may be encouraged by his report.

THERE CAN BE NO SUCCESSFUL ALLIANCE BETWEEN THE LINDSAY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND LINDSAY'S MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

merco and Lindray's Municipal Council. We have taken this stand on a numerous occasions in the past and it is based on the premise that u non-elected body should not be affiliated with an elected body should not be affiliated with an elected body the because their two drives are designed to conflict. In the case of a non-elected body it, in agit to become harden with private ventures which could get out of line because it were not an asserted the output of the property of t sumed by heads of the Chamber who publicly conveyof the Impression that they were unwilling to admit errors and shortcomings on their part. It was also paparent that much of the difficulty lay in the fact that, the impression had gotten abroad that the Chamber of Commerce was trying to take full credit for developments along industrial lines despite the fact that Town Council had provided taxpayers' district to finance the Chamber's industrial efforts. This naturally irked some members of Council who had devoted ronsiderable time and energy to promoting Lidaday in prospective industrial camps.

Landasy in prospective industrial camps.

We believe there is a place in the community for a good Chamber of Commerce and, if this or any succeeding Council sees fit to make it a grant, not likely many people would have any objection. But there must be strenuous objection to the Chamber of Commerce assuming that it can usurp the management.

must be afrenous objection to the Chamber of Commerce assuming that it can usury the unangement of Town business, industrial or otherwise, and impose the control of the situation and, if the Chamber of Commerce chooses to do something on the town's behalf along these lines it should expect to report (fully) all developments, behalf along the control of the control any of several private offices around the town.

There is only one place to conduct Town business and that is in the Council Chamber and there is only and that is in the Council Champer and there is only one group which should make decisions and pro-nouncements for Lindsay and that is Town Council. We would strongly recommend that Council take imme-diate steps to restore its full sovereignty and stop pres-sure groups or pressure plays in their tracks.

GETTING RID OF LIQUOR BOOKS

CETTING RID OF LIGUOR BOOKS
In future it will not be necessary to have the amount of liquor which you buy entered in your permit-book at the L.F.G. stores; the men who have done this work will serve behind the counter. The taxpayer will not be eaved any money by this change, but the red tape associated with buying liquor will be slightly lessened. The books will serve simply as identification cards at some future time. The identification cards at some future time. The identification cards at the server of the support of the server of the serv

A'NOTHER BOOM?

Highly placed Canadian financial authorities an-ticinate that Sputnik II will touch off another economic boom, with the United States setting the pace. There will be a race to catch up with Russia in the satellite department, heavy spending, easier money-and presummore inflation.

This is better than a wild guess. It has the econd mic record on its side. The machine-equipped fact the railroads, the harnessing of electricity, and various other recurring developments have touched off economic booms, each greater than the one preceding it.

If Sputnik and its super-high-powered rocket motors seem an odd thing to hitch a boom to, remember that the "smoke-buggy" of just over half a century ago seemed almost as futile and transitory to many.

One thing is certain at the moment: the United States is aroused and ready to make a real race of it Nomination Meeting Hits 10-Year Low Here—Apathy of People Deplored By Many of the Candidates. Councillor W.S.W. Breese expressed the situation quite forcibly when he told the estimated 60 spectators (in-cluding present Town officials that the "danger to cluding present Town officials toat the "danger to democracy is not from outside attack but rather from lack of interset and complacency inside. The office of Mayor received two nominees, A.E. Hick and Charles Lamb. Mr. Lamb did not signify his intention at the Clayton Grills and Mr. John C. Nesbitt. Neither of the latter were at the meeting, so it was not known their intention. Those who said they would be eligible for Council were: Lloyd G. Found, Joseph A. Hutton, Russell G. Lamb, Bruce C. Relic of Canada's Fur Trade Days Mighty Canoe Built for Posterity

Consequently its, days in the water were limited to a few trial runs before removal to Ottawa where it will be on permanent display in the National Museum of Canada.

Matt Bernard (left), once chief of the Algonquin Indians on the Golden Lake reserve, supervised building of the cance. His son Mike (right) assisted in construction which took 4 months.

. 85-year-old Mart beams with pride as the mighty canoe passes her trials successfully. The mammoth canoe measures 36'8" overall length, 72" width, 33" depth at contre, can accommodate 14 paddlers in addition to a

The ribs are made of split cedar, 3 inches wide and of varying length. The wood is steamed and pressed together, then bent sharply and wedged beneath the gunwhale.
